EVENT GUIDE

The Black Country's Largest Jobs Fair

Thursday 12 September

@walsallworks

Walsall Council

Foreword by Councillor Pardeep Kaur

Welcome to the Walsall Works Jobs and Skills Expo, one of the largest and most significant employment events in the West Midlands. For over a decade, Walsall Works has successfully connected vital opportunities with the people of Walsall, and I am honoured to be part of this inspiring journey.

Walsall Council is committed to economic growth for our place, our people, and our businesses. Our ambition is to create meaningful opportunities for all, ensuring we improve everyone's lives through access to high-quality education, exceptional training provisions, and pathways to sustainable employment.

Our local job market faces substantial challenges, with unemployment in the borough currently standing at 5.5% of the working-age population, which is significantly higher than the national average of 3.7%. Additionally, there are now 2,000 youths unemployed with fewer engaged in education, employment or training. Addressing these issues is a priority, and the Council is dedicated to resourcing positive action schemes like Walsall Works to support as many individuals as possible.

This Expo exemplifies our commitment to working collaboratively with stakeholders to offer practical solutions and support through initiatives such as The Link, a multi-agency one job shop in the town centre; to Multiply, a financial literacy programme and monthly events taking place like this Expo, we aim to equip our residents with the skills and knowledge they need to succeed. of our residents.

Our residents are invited to meet with these exhibitors, including several of the top 10 recruiters in the borough, who offer a wide range of roles covering both full and part-time jobs across numerous disciplines, as well as pre-employment packages.

Opportunities span various sectors, including construction, logistics, digital, health and social care, customer service, administration, and more. I am confident that there is something for everyone, regardless of their background, interests, skills, and experience.

For those not quite ready to participate in learning or employment, our flexible and tailor-made support through Walsall Works will build confidence, enhance wellbeing, and provide the tools needed to achieve personal goals. Our commitment extends beyond events. The Link offers support and advice to Walsall residents looking for employment or to upskill and is a collaboration between the Council, Walsall College, and DWP.

Reflecting on the new Government's pledges, we foresee a renewed emphasis on addressing regional disparities and enhancing skills development. The Government's commitment to investing in education and vocational training aligns perfectly with our goals at Walsall Works. By supporting initiatives that foster skills development and employment opportunities, we can collectively work towards reducing unemployment and enhancing the economic prospects of our residents.

With the cost-of-living crisis still posing a significant challenge, collaborative efforts and continued stakeholder support are crucial. Events like the Walsall Works Expo are vital in connecting residents with services that can lead to financial stability and improved quality of life.

We are eager to hear about your experience at the event. Please share your feedback by emailing walsallworks@walsall.gov.uk or by sharing your thoughts on social media. Thank you for participating in this important event, and we wish you success in finding the opportunities you seek.

Welcome to the Walsall Works Expo

On entry, you will see a number of exhibitors in the hall. Each of these providers can support you with training and matching to available jobs. Remember to go to the Walsall Works stand to sign up for our weekly job bulletins.
